Why Choose LocalRealtime?

The secret to successful litigation events lies within LiveLitigation's LocalRealtime. The feature rich, wireless platform allows you to easily access a court reporter's realtime feed from the viewing device of your choice (computer, laptop, mobile device), while also providing you with a dynamic set of tools at your fingertips for conducting more accurate, focused, and thorough depositions, trials, hearings, and arbitrations.

Interactive Realtime Feed

Receive and interact with a rough transcript in realtime. Follow along word-for-word to make sure all questions are being addressed, or scroll back through prior sections of testimony to refresh your memory on previously stated items.

Transcript Highlighting

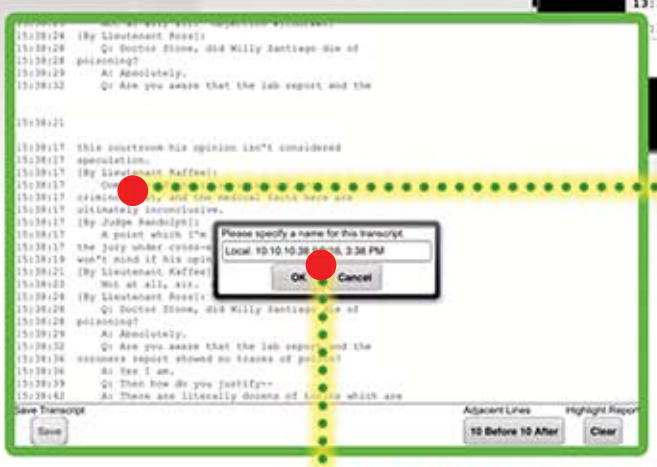
Critical sections of a testimony can be marked and highlighted simply by tapping or clicking on a particular line within the transcript. You can refer to these highlights at a later time for new motions or follow-up questions.

Smart Keyword Search

Quickly search for and find keywords throughout the transcript. Once a keyword is entered and selected, a list is populated that shows locations where the specific keyword has been mentioned in the testimony.

Fully Universal Platform

As a 100% universal platform, you have the freedom to choose your own viewing device. LocalRealtime can be used with any PC or Mac, or by downloading a mobile app on any iPad, Kindle Fire, or Android Smartphone/Tablet.



Annotative Highlight Reports

View and reference a report that lists all highlighted lines throughout a transcript. Add personal notes to highlighted sections for reminders, summaries, or for your legal team to follow-up on.

Easy Transcript Saving/Exporting

Choose to either save/export just the highlight report with your notes, or to save/export the entire transcript to your local device. Import the transcript at a later time to your preferred litigation software.
